

Learn the response protocols for disengagement and how to mitigate liability.

SAVAGE
TRAINING GROUP

Response to the Non-Criminal Barricade: Disengagement & Special Relationships®

May 29, 2024 | Prior Lake, MN

City Hall - Parkview Room | 4646 Dakota St SE, Prior Lake, MN 55372

Hosted by the Prior Lake Police Department

Instructor: Lt. Donald Anderson, San Francisco Police Department

$299/student

This course teaches the best way to respond to mentally ill persons who are armed, barricaded, and in crisis. Students will leave the course with an understanding of modern disengagement and re-engagement tactics, the specific ways to avoid liability, and a collection of the best non-criminal barricade policies from police agencies all around the country.

The target audience for this course are: Patrol Officers and Field Supervisors, Hostage and Crisis Negotiators, SWAT Operators and Tactical Commanders, Law Enforcement Policy Makers, Law Enforcement Dispatchers and Call Takers.

Each student will receive:

- ✔ A simple three-page decision making cheat sheet to help guide your decision making regarding when to engage, disengage and re-engage.
- ✔ A collection of non-criminal barricade policies from progressive police agencies around the U.S.
- ✔ Access to an ever-growing collection of State specific laws.

Most every police agency is searching for de-escalation training for law enforcement. But the best agencies want more than just “check the box” training. This course delivers! Instead of vague philosophical notions, this course presents specific guidance that your officers can use immediately. You’ll learn meaningful tactical withdrawal training and mental health crisis response training. This course will give your officers and supervisors specific tools they can use to save lives and prevent liability.

Your instructor, Donald Anderson, is an active-duty Lieutenant with the San Francisco Police Department. Donald is an experienced law enforcement professional who regularly responds to critical incidents, including barricade subjects, as a Team Leader on the department’s Crisis Negotiation Team. Donald has not only studied best practices for responding to non-criminal barricades but is also a real-world practitioner, frequently responding to such incidents. He is an experienced trainer who is passionate about helping police officers navigate these challenging incidents and saving lives.

Space is limited so register today at
SavageTrainingGroup.com

